IVES' SCHEME.

Alleged Plot of the Young Napoleon of Finance to Rob a Millionaire's Estate.

Forging Henry Meyer's Name to an Agreement and Testifying to Its Genuineness.

Meyer Said to Have Been Driven to His Grave by the Rascality of Ives and Stayner.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The Evening Sun in its last edition prints a sensational story of an attempt to rob the estate of the late Christopher Meyer of $7,000,000 by means of forgery, and charges Henry S. Ives with the crime. The headlines are as follows: "Ives as a Forger—Details of his Bold Scheme to Rob the Christopher Meyer Estate of $7,000,000—Ives Traced the Dead Man's Initials and Stayner Touched Them Up—Perjury but an Incident—The Master Thief Calmly Told Woodruff the Details He Was to Swear to."

The Sun says: "Henry S. Ives, who has been so often and so freely referred to in these columns as a master thief, also ranks high among the forgers. This narrative will show that he, by the forgery of the two initials 'C. and M.' was in a fair way to obtain at least $100,000 in cold cash, and open a bill which contained something more than $7,000,000. These facts, published to day for the first time, can be substantiated whenever it shall become necessary."

For several years back Meyer had dealings with Stayner, which had resulted worse for Meyer to the tune of about $100,000. Stayner was indicted for about that sum to Meyer and after going into insolvency compromised the debt, leaving a balance of many thousands dollars unpaid. When Stayner and Ives became squeezed for funds Stayner betwined himself of a novel and effective expedient for recapturing old Meyer's confidence and making him a contributor to the scheme in which he had embarked with the thiefing Napoleon. After drawing on the Meyer-Randolph fund, of which Ives & Co. had made themselves the depositaries, immediately after they had got control of the road, Stayner presented himself to Meyer in high moral attitude. He declared to Meyer that he had come to perform what he considered his duty as a Christian and an honest man; that he was now happily in funds sufficient to discharge the last cent of his obligation and that it was for that purpose from that time on gave implicit credence to all of Stayner's declarations, and was purchased and brought to New York a total of six thousand shares of Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton common stock at an average price not to exceed 1.15 per cent. to carry it for them, receiving 6 per cent. for the use of his money, an arrangement which was practically a loan of $1,000,000 that extended upon the stock, since it was agreed that Ives and Stayner should cast the votes at all elections of the road and at the stockholders' meetings. This agreement was carried out by Meyer to the letter. The stock was held in his name during the entire time of the winding up of firm of H. S. Ives & Co., and when the inevitable exposure and smash came it was still so held. The exposure was made by Stayner's unscrupulousness, the daily mention of his own name in connection with them, and the keen sense of disgrace which Meyer's death in a few months within three months after Meyer's death there was put into operation through Ives' agency a scheme to rob the Meyer estate and open up to himself and his confederates a mine of $1,000,000.

The Sun then says: "Within three months after Meyer's death there was put into operation through Ives' agency a scheme to rob the Meyer estate and open up to himself and his confederates a mine of $1,000,000. The fall of 1888 suit was begun in an Ohio court by Albert Netter vs. Henry S. Ives, George H. Stayner and the executors of the estate of Christopher Meyer for the balance of the purchase money of this syndicate remaining unpaid. No sooner, however, than the plaintiff began his case, the character of the action was revealed. Ives and Stayner, nominally the defendants, were the principal witnesses whom the plaintiff called to prove the claim against themselves. Neither was solvent and the manifest intention was to turn to the only responsible defendant, the estate of Christopher Meyer. To make that estate answerable it was necessary to prove that Meyer had been a partner of the Ives gang, and as such responsible for all their losses. Meyer was dead and could deny nothing. Ives & Stayner therefore produced a document which fully met the case. 'The Sun' then gives in full the agreement which Ives & Stayner made with Meyer a full partner with them in the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton deal. This document was signed H. S. Ives, C. M. Stayner and Stayner. The document, and a powerful magnifying glass shows that the initials were first traced then touched up. The Sun then gives a detailed account of the conception and execution of the crime. The Sun reports this morning had an interview with Ives. He still insists that the initials are genuine.

Heavy Rain in Dakota.

HEBON, S. D., Sept. 14.—It has been raining here since Thursday night, over three inches of water having fallen. Like reports comes from all parts of South Dakota. The result is believed to be a great crop for the next year, this being the wettest September for fifteen years.

VALLEY FALLS, Kas., Sept. 14.—The heaviest rain storm for years occurred here to-day and the road beds of the railroads were badly damaged. The Delaware river is even with the banks and the water is rising. Three people are reported to have been drowned in the river.

Sent to Prison for Life.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Sept. 14.—Sylvester Mora, who was sentenced to life imprisonment for some months for robbing a California man, pleaded guilty to the charge of robbery this afternoon and was sentenced by Judge Putbaugh to Folsom state prison for life.

Not a Juror Yet.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—No developments of interest were made during to-day in the Cronin trial. The second week of the search for a jury closes with not a single man accepted by both sides. The state has exhausted thirty-three peremptory challenges, the defense thirty-six. Each side is entitled to 100.

IN MEMORY OF GEN. GRANT.

A Statue to the Noted Soldier Unveiled at Leavenworth, Kansas.

FORT LEAVENWORTH, Kas., Sept. 14.—The statue of Gen. Grant was unveiled to-day. The ceremonies were very impressive. Thousands of visitors came in on the excursion from Missouri and Nebraska. At 10 o'clock this afternoon the troops from Fort Leavenworth, under command of Gen. A. McD. McCook, arrived. There were five companies of infantry, four troops of cavalry and one battery of light artillery. In the city the procession formed at the same hour, composed of the G. A. R. posts, civic societies, city officials, etc., and marched to the depot, went by train to where it was joined by the troops and marched to the site of the monument. The ceremony of unveiling was performed by Gen. Wesley Merritt, U. S. A., commanding the department. The statue is 22 feet high, of a polished granite pedestal of equal height. The left foot is slightly advanced. The right hand is raised to a point which points the right forefinger. A slouch hat covers the head. The figure is draped in a long military cloak, which reaches over the shoulders. Orations were delivered by Senator Ingalls and others.

FLEEING FROM FIRE.

A Panic at the Chicago Exposition Caused by a Big Blaze.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—Between 8,000 and 10,000 people rushed pell mell out of the exposition building to-night, falling over each other down stairs from the gallery and many jumping through the windows in their hurry to escape. Fire had started in one of the big booths near the center of the huge structure and the glare of the flames and the crash of glass caused a panic. Men, women and children joined in the mad rush for the exits, which were fortunately numerous enough to prevent fatal crushing. Within five minutes excited thousands of people were safe outside the structure and a few minutes thereafter the flames were extinguished and the building was in ruins. The damage to the building itself was slight and the art gallery wholly escaped. The losses of the exhibitors will reach $1,500. No persons were reported seriously injured, though many doubtless suffered hurts and others were dazed and disoriented. One young lady and her escort were compelled to descend from the roof. The fire was caused by a cigarette falling from one of the electric lights into a pile of ribbons.

The Storm is Over.

NEW YORK, Sept. 14.—The storm has at last blown over. The feeling of business in shipping circles as to the safety of many vessels at sea during the storm remains as keen as ever. Several steamers and sailing vessels are overdue, and as telegraphic communication between here and a number of ports is so far from satisfactory, it is impossible to say anything for the present. Communication with Sandy Hook is all right again. No less than a score of storm-tossed vessels are reported to be passing up towards quarantine. All show evidence of having passed through the storm. The crew of the schooner, which was wrecked here, the captain and crew, eleven men in all, of the German bark Uru, sank in the recent storm.

BOSTON, Sept. 14.—The bark Caterina, from Pensacola, was abandoned, September 11th. Captain Morton and five of the crew were drowned. The remaining seven were rescued and landed here by the steamer Dana.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 14.—The steamer Saxon arrived from Philadelphia this morning. She had on board the captain and seamen of the shipwrecked schooner, which was wrecked here, the captain and crew, eleven men in all, of the German bark Uru, sank in the recent storm.

It is figured roughly that fully $1,250,000 damage has been done by the wind and rain. The number of vessels wrecked or wrecked greatly exceeds the first expectation of shipping men and many more vessels are yet to be heard from.

Mr. Toole's Tribute.

FORT BENTON, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—In his speech here Thursday evening Hon. J. K. Toole paid a glowing tribute to the memory of S. S. Cox. He said:

"As I came down on the train this morning I read of the sudden death of the Hon. Samuel Sullivan Cox. I cannot speak of the admission of the new states without expressing the profound regret of our people in the loss sustained by the death of Mr. Cox. His fame as a statesman, author and humorist was not only coextensive with the limits of this republic, but he was a man of a high and noble character. His long experience in public life, his wide acquaintance with men and affairs, as well as his liberal and progressive thought, suggested him at once as eminently fit to command the forces and lead the fight in that important struggle. His admirable presentation of our rights fairly glowed with patriotism and sentiment, and was filled with a burning eloquence that made luminous our just demands. The result shows how well he wielded a Damascus blade. Montana mourns with his wife and the nation."

The Glass Workers' Strike Settled.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 14.—The strike of the window glass workers is practically settled. The manufacturers' committee conceded the 5 per cent. advance demanded by the employees. The matter was presented to the general meeting of the manufacturers to-day. If the committee's action is ratified a general assumption will take place next week. The settlement affected sixty-one factories employing 5,000 men and boys.

Tourists Deserting the Mountains.

DENVER, Sept. 14.—[Specials from most of the mountain districts show that for this season of the year it has been snowing unusually hard and in most places is still falling. To-night the storm is driving down the mountains, and a low level of snow and all incoming trains are loaded down even to standing room with tourists bound for eastern cities.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Democrats in Cascade Put Their Names on the Registry List Despite Difficulties.

Messrs. McCutcheon and Sanders Hustling For Votes in Northern Montana.

Major Maginnis' Campaign in Eastern Montana a Great Success—The Outlook at Various Points.

GREAT FALLS, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The registration here indicates an increased vote in the city proper, but shows losses at the smelter, where the working force has been reduced. The democrats are gratified at the general result of the registration and count confidently on large gains. Returns are lacking from the country districts of Cascade county, but it is known that in the districts where registration was the most difficult the democratic electors have nobly done their duty and placed every name on the list. The issue of first or second papers to foreign born citizens has been large. Both democrats and republicans have availed themselves of the facilities which the deputy clerks have legally afforded them. The registry office will be open to-morrow.

Col. Sanders and Col. McCutcheon opened this evening to a moderate business. McCutcheon was down while Sanders pushed the heavy villain. McCutcheon appeared in the "Public Bathroom." It was full of stale hits at J. K. Toole, but failed to please the gallery. Sanders appeared in the "Chesterfield Revived." He imposed on a patient audience an hour's talk on the tariff and told blood-curdling stories of what the democratic conspirators intended. His allusion to the registration and new fangled laws was dreary. He outlined the calamities which the four millionaires were preparing for Montana. He made out that the republicans monopolized all the virtue that was going and announced at the close that this was positively his last appearance here this season. This announcement was received with applause. Judge Rice played the part of old man, and looked as gloomy as a pall-bearer. McCutcheon and Sanders were called before the curtain and presented with the prizes reserved for those who would fabricate the most absurd yarns of the campaign. Both players had engagements for Oct. 2 on Salt river.

Sanders at Fort Benton.

FORT BENTON, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The republican rally last night brought out quite a crowd of supporters of both parties. Sanders was the only speaker, and managed to string out a discourse for some three hours. It consisted mainly of expressions of regret for intemperate language used in previous campaigns, and apologies for the many mistakes made during his political career. He then proceeded to abuse the democratic party in general, and Maginnis in particular, and was so engrossed in this business as to omit all reference to the republican state platform or party nominees.

It is reported that a fresh supply of booze has arrived from republican state headquarters, and party managers here propose to make things howl during the next two weeks.

Major Maginnis' Popularity.

THREE FORKS, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—Major Maginnis and Fred Goetz arrived to-day by train from Pony. The major has met large and enthusiastic audiences from Twin Bridges to Red Bluff. He has spoken twice a day since the 11th at Twin Bridges, Sheridan, Laurel, Virginia City, Ennis and Red Bluff. The gathering at Virginia City was unusually large. At this place he was met by a delegation from Bozeman and from indications will speak to a crowded house, as the people are already coming from the country. The registration is 500 and will reach sixty more at least, as a large lot of railroad men are coming in to hear the speaking and to register.

Rousing Democratic Gathering.

BUTTE, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—Matters have been lively in Butte this evening, both political parties holding meetings. The republicans met at the pavilion and were addressed by Pat Conlon and George Haldorn. The democrats held a rousing meeting at their headquarters in the Combination block. P. J. Gilligan presided, and H. L. Frank was the first speaker called upon. He explained his democracy in a speech replete with fact and argument. He was followed by John T. Baldwin, candidate for district attorney. Mr. Baldwin is an old timer here and is very popular and will be easily elected. His speech was eloquent and forcible, and well received by the audience. Mr. Rogers followed him and the speaking was closed by Mr. P. J. Gilligan, president of the Silver Bow Tammany club. Mr. Gilligan is an eloquent young Irishman, and quite enthused the meeting with his forcible remarks. T. F. Courtney, late member of the constitutional convention, also made an excellent speech. The meeting was an enthusiastic and well attended one and showed plainly that the democrats of Butte are alive to the responsibilities of the hour.

Scared Republicans Decline to Run.

BUTTE, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The republican county central committee to-day announced three changes on the county legislative ticket. The three candidates who declined to make the race are Thomas M. Robbins, of Melrose, E. E. Congdon, of South Butte, and Wm. Leyshon, of Meadville. They are succeeded by Thomas Sturbridge, of Centerville, F.

H. Hoffman, of South Butte, and A. F. Noble, of the Parrott precinct. It is understood that A. Fred Wey and S. J. Knight, candidates for county commissioners, have also pulled out of the track, but no official action has yet been taken. The only change in the democratic ticket since the convention has been the withdrawal of Miss Sadie Mead as candidate for county superintendent of public schools. She has been succeeded by Miss Carrie Cox.

Did It Through Ignorance.

BUTTE, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The first arrest for illegal registration took place this afternoon. M. J. Rowan applied to John Kirby, of district No. 5, to register, and made oath that he was a citizen of the United States. Later, in a conversation before leaving the registry office, he stated that he had never taken out his naturalization papers. Registrar Kirby telephoned for an officer and Rowan was placed under arrest. It was subsequently developed that he was a democrat, though this fact was not known at the time he registered. He was undoubtedly ignorant of the fact that he had perjured himself in taking the oath. An examination was held before Judge DeWolfe and Rowan was released on $500 bonds which were promptly put up.

Registration Reduced Jefferson's Vote.

BOULDER, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—County Attorney Hay has issued instructions to registration agents to keep their offices open Sunday, the 15th, as required by law. The total vote of the railroad camp near Whitehall, on the Galatin and Butte road, will be about 430, judging from the latest reports received. Advice from all the precincts in Jefferson county are lacking, but it is generally estimated that the vote of the county will fall about ten percent. short of that of last fall.

Campaigners at Wickes.

WICKES, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The democrats fired the first gun of the season for Wickes last night. The hall was crowded to its full capacity. Ed. H. Cooney called the meeting to order. The first speaker of the evening was Hon. R. B. Smith, who was closely listened to and cheered to the echo. Judge McConnell followed with one of his characteristic speeches. The democrats were never more in earnest than this fall.

T. C. Power failed to appear at the republican meeting to-night, no reason being given for his non-appearance. The meeting was a fair one though not very enthusiastic. Rotwitt was the principal speaker.

THE COLORED BAPTISTS.

Delegates Who Want to go on Record as Opposed to Violence.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 14.—The negro Baptists resumed the discussion of outrages again to-day. Rev. T. L. Jordan, of Mississippi, made a speech deprecating the remarks advocating violence in return for Southern wrongs, as it places the mass of helpless colored people at the mercy of the criminal classes of the South. Others of the Mississippi delegation talked in the same vein and resolutions were finally introduced and adopted to the effect that the colored people cultivate friendly relations with those among whom they live. President Love made a speech retelling the story of the assault upon himself and said the passage of the resolutions would make it appear that there had been no outrage and that he had made a false statement. This caused much excitement and the vote was reconsidered and the resolution tabled. The members of the Mississippi delegation insisted, however, upon their names going on record as being opposed to violence, and this was allowed.

Col. Hawkins Goes to Jail.

PHILLIPSBURG, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—A house kept by a woman known as "The Irish World," a Granite was entered last night by burglars and robbed of valuables amounting to $2,000 or $3,000. Among them was a set of silverware and some diamonds. The identity of the burglars is unknown. The trial at Granite this afternoon of Col. Hawkins, he having secured a change of venue, resulted in his being sentenced to one month's imprisonment and a fine of $100.

Another Break in Freight Rates.

CHICAGO, Sept. 14.—The action of the Chicago, Burlington & Northern road in reducing freight rates between Chicago and St. Paul to a 40 cent basis claimed the undivided attention of the representatives of the western and north-western lines to-day. The Burlington & Northern evidently calculated they would have to reduce the rates in force at least one day before their competitors, but the other roads failed to see the matter in that light, and all rates will come down together. There seems no doubt but that Missouri river rates will also be pulled down, but the most serious result will probably be a reduction in the Iowa distance tariff.

Testing the Chicago.

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 14.—The United States cruiser Chicago had her first trial to-day over a measured mile. She was tested first at forty-six revolutions and made a speed of eleven knots; then at sixty revolutions, making a speed of fourteen knots. Then she blew out a stop cock in the engine room and in consequence her fastest speed was not tested. The accident was repaired in a few hours.

Pensioners Overpaid.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—An examination of the June accounts of the Washington City pension agency by the pension division of the third auditor's office shows an overpayment of $2,100 in one voucher. A number of smaller overpayments have also been recently discovered in the accounts of other pension agencies. These errors are said to have resulted from the effort to increase the work of the clerks beyond their capacity.

On the Field of Honor.

PARIS, Sept. 14.—Lallou, editor of La France, and Cauvet, editor of La Paris, became involved in a dispute, the outcome of which was a duel fought to-day. Lallou was wounded in the hand.

HOW IT STANDS.

Registration Closed Last Night Showing a Total of 4,579 Names for Helena's Precincts.

The Total is Over Seven Hundred in Excess of Last Year's Vote.

How the Situation is Viewed—Democratic Success in Lewis and Clarke County Assured.

Registration has ended. It closed at 1 o'clock last night and the only noticeable feature was that the registry agents sat back in their chairs waiting for the next man to come. There were 334 voters registered during the day. The registration in the Helena precincts as it stood at the close was:

| | |
|---|-----|
| At La Croix's | 207 |
| At Engine House | 200 |
| Total | 407 |
| The vote for delegate last fall in Helena was | 457 |
| Carver | 216 |
| Clark | 171 |
| Total | 387 |
| Total registration 1889, in Helena | 407 |

Increase.....7
At least 100 may be deducted from this in comparing it with the vote of last fall for the reason that the voters of Valley and Goodwin's were required to register in Helena this year.

The total vote of Lewis and Clarke county for delegate last fall was 5,965. The reports of the outside precincts are not in yet but as it stands it only requires 28 to equal last November's total, and this will be considerably increased.

The democratic claim as far as the city is concerned, which is generally republican by from 300 to 400 majority, that this year they will make a stand-off and expect to easily overreach this from the outside.

Both parties have struggled hard and well to secure a full registration and from now until election day the battle of eloquence will be fast and furious.
With their overflowing "bar" it is said the republicans will give it out by the bucketful on Oct. 1, as they are depending on this for success.

The registration has been the means of ascertaining the many nationalities which make up our population. There were Greeks, Turks, Spaniards, Mexicans, half-breed Indians, Scotchmen, Irishmen, Englishmen, Africans, Germans, Poles, Scandinavians, Americans and, in fact, every civilized nationality except Chinese and Japanese are represented. A colored man who registered yesterday brought up his naturalization papers, notwithstanding he was born on American soil. His parents were English subjects and came to this country on a visit, and while here he was born. When three months old, however, they returned to England and he and he therefore had to become naturalized in this country. The registration law has brought about many surprises. Men who had been voting for years, unaware of the fact that they were not citizens were required to take out their papers.

The first man to register at Mr. Kenney's quarters in the engine house was Sam Alexander, and the second man Judge Blake, while the last to put down his name last night at that precinct was Emil Roeth. At LaCroix's office the registrar himself was first on the list, followed by Judge Hedges. The last man was Alexander N. Killbreath. There was no excitement whatever at LaCroix's at the hour of closing; a number of visitors were present out of curiosity. When the court house bell tolled the hour of 10 the registrar locked the door and said the polls were closed.

At the engine house there was a great crowd and anxious eyes looked for newcomers. As the clock struck 10, the books were closed, the lights put out and the battle won and lost.

Registration at Other Points.

Below will be found the number of vote registered at various points in the territory up to 10 o'clock last night. Outside of Lewis and Clarke county the registration places will as a rule be open to-day:

Registration in Missoula County.

MISSOULA, Sept. 14.—[Special to the Independent].—The registration at 10 o'clock to-night had reached 1,350 and the clerk has decided to keep the books open to-morrow. It is thought, however, that but few will add their names to the list on Sunday. The vote of this precinct last fall was 852, and the most sanguine did not place the number who would register at more than 900 when the books opened. The district clerk has naturalized about 350 men since the campaign opened. Reports come from the Flathead that the three precincts in that locality had registered 500 men up to last night. At Horse Plains the names of 300 more were on the books. Reports from the west end of the county are most flattering for the democracy.

Toole and Pemberton are anxiously awaited on Monday evening and will be accorded a hearty reception on their arrival.

Business and Pleasure Combined.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14.—The president left for Deer Park this morning. Before leaving he appointed Charles S. Johnson, of Nebraska, United States attorney for Alaska.
